BANIM/BANOT BONDING!

Materials:

Girls - Clay for mud masks
Music and speakers
Ball of yarn
Song sheets
Boys – Paint for 'war paint'
Dodgeballs

The boys sat down and had a discussion about what it means to treat each other with respect and how 'bros' are there for each other, then they put on war paint and mixed up the two boys' bunks so that they bonded with each other, not just their bunks. Then they played some dodgeball.

The girls got tzevet rikud to come and teach them some Zumba dances, they also taught them a song about being connected (that the counselors had learned during their NIV summer) and passed around a ball of yarn to make bracelets. They then did some awesome facemasks out of clay (bought from a store, not the agam!).
