Characters:

- Mr. Mint: Imagine sparkly minty snow and giant peppermint sticks as tall as trees. Who would live in such a minty place? Why, the most fun-loving fellow in all of Candy Land - Mr. Mint, of course! The tall, tall...tall woodsman lives deep in the Peppermint Forest, beyond the Peppermint Falls. Be sure to stop by on your way down the path. Mr. Mint loves to laugh, so much he'll probably come with you on your adventure. For, as he always says: "You oughta-gotta have fun!"
 - Dental hygiene --- clean teeth & oreos
 - enviroment
- Mama Gingertree: Mama Gingertree is the first friendly face you see in Candy Land. She gathers her ginger boys and girls to give you a great big welcome to your adventure. Sit with her for a while and she'll fill your ears with wonderful stories of Candy Land. Make sure to keep a look out for the ginger boys and girls around Candy Land: they'll help you along the path, and make sure you have the sweetest adventure.

- Gloppy: Just before you get to the Candy Castle, you'll pass through the Chocolate Swamp, where you just might meet Gloppy. Don't be afraid, Gloppy might look like a monster, but he's really a lovable glop of chocolaty goo. But Gloppy gets very lonely sitting in the swamp all by himself. So, give him a hug and you'll have a friend forever.
- Lord Licorice: The grumpy Lord Licorice sneaks through the Licorice Forest. Be careful, he may try to block your way along the path with his icky, sticky licorice! Lord Licorice is not like anyone else in Candy Land. He's always up to some plan to turn all of Candy Land to Licorice - the Licorice Castle, Licorice Lake, Licorice Mountains and Licorice Acres. Just imagine! Lucky for us, he's a little clumsy. One of these days, (you'd think) he'll learn that those happy Candy Land friends, with the help of visitors like you, will stop him every time.
- Princess Frostine: Said to be the sweetest in all Candy Land, Princess Frostine is the perfect picture of grace and beauty; she is everything you would want a princess to be. Wherever she goes, her Snowflake Scepter spins a trail of sparkling sugar snowflakes. Her favorite place is Snow Flake Lake, just up the path from the Lollipop Woods but not quite so far as the Ice Cream Mountains. She spends her day ice-skating, or having tea with visitors in her gazebo. Stop by for a sip or even a skate.
- King Kandy: King Kandy is the King of all of Candy Land. No adventure is complete without a trip to his Candy Castle. You'll find the castle below the Ice Cream Mountains where the Chocolate River flows. Made of sparkling sugar, colorful candies and gumdrops galore, Candy Castle is a place you just have to see. King Kandy loves all his sweet Candy Land friends so much, each year he throws them the Sweet Celebration - the sweetest party you'll ever see. Be sure to stop by and enjoy the fun!
- Gramma SoyNutt: Things can get a little nutty around Candy Land, and nowhere better than at Peanut Acres. Here lives Gramma Nutt with her dog, Bazz, carefully tending her peanut fields. These fields need special, loving care, for they don't grow just any old peanuts, but peanuts with magical surprises inside. Gramma Nutt loves to experiment with creating new types of magic for her peanuts (not always successfully). Whether you take a slide around her house, or hunt for that perfect peanut, you'll always have fun with Gramma Nutt!
- Jolly: At the edge of the Peppermint Forest lie the bouncy, jouncy Gumdrop Mountains. Here you'll meet Jolly, the cute little creature who lives in the Gumdrop Pass. Much like his home, Jolly is the softest, squishiest, bounciest character you'll meet in Candy Land. He doesn't say much, but will keep you laughing with his constantly changing shapes. One minute, there he is; the next, he's a clock, a sign, a pair of scissors, or...a cat or a dog, maybe...a kangaroo, a dolphin, even...Surprise! He's back to himself. Let him bounce you through the Gumdrop Pass or invite him along for a bouncy good time.

- Lolly: Deep in the heart of the Lollipop Woods, you'll find Lolly dancing about to her own music. In a cloud of twinkling light, her wings flutter and she happily waves her magical lollipop scepter. Lolly is curious about everything and is easily distracted - there's so much to see in Candy Land. She follows her nose wherever it wants to go and flies off from adventure to adventure.

Morning: game show/play candy land

Afternoon: stations
