Program summary: this program encourages creativity and team work through skit building

Location: Mirpeset of the Beit Am Aleph

Linguistic goals in Hebrew:

- To learn and use the command forms for the following simple verbs used around camp:
 - (to stand) takum/takumi/takumu
 - (to sit) teshev/teshvi/teshvu
 - (to run) tarutz/tarutzi/tarutzu
 - (to walk) telech/telchi/telchu
 - (to listen) takshiv/takshivi/takshivu
- To learn and use the following phrases of excitement:

- Ahavti
- Sababa
- Meah achuz
- Achlah
- Madhim

Instructions for running the program:

1. Each tzrif will receive a garbage bag with random objects, the five verbs (above), the five phrases of excitement (above), and one of the following five scenarios:
 - a. All the chanichim in your tzrif are at a rodeo and someone stole the bull—what do you do? What do you see?
 - b. All the chanichim in your tzrif are on an airplane and someone is snoring really loudly—what do you do?
 - c. Two elephants and a clown show up at your tzrif's yard sale—how do you respond?
 - d. Your tzrif is snorkeling in Eilat and you see a penguin—where did it come from? What do you do?
 - e. You are at Fenway Park and something rises up from the pitcher's mound. It is a...? What happens?
2. Each tzrif has 15 minutes to prepare a 3-5 minute story skit responding to the scenario prompt that uses all of the verbs, phrases of excitement, people in the tzrif (including madrichim), and items in the bag.
3. Each tzrif performs their 3-5 minute story skit for the other tzrifim.
4. After each skit, return all items, phrases, verbs, and the scenario to the bag so the next group will be able to use them.

There comes a time in each hanich or hanicha's life when they must embark on the ultimate journey to determine which is the best tzrif in all of machaneh ramah. Today, 21 tzrifim, 4 edot will be competing to see who will be the last tzrif standing. You will be faced with challenges in unity, determination, and dedication to the ultimate hanich experience. At the end of the day we will select a winner from each edah, and they will face off in a final challenge to see who will be the last tzrif standing. Your first challenge is to return to your tzrifim and perform the ultimate nikayon. You will be judged on cleanliness, organization, and full tzrif involvement. The ninja roshim will be walking through and grading your work. Your tzrif must decide on a team uniform to put on at the end of nikayon to show your tzrif pride throughout the day. The winner will get a late night ice cream sundae fiesta, have the time of their lives, and will forever hold the title of the last tzrif standing. So who is it going to be?
